All Wounded Japs Killed By Own Men

By SPENCER DAVIS

MANILA, June 23 (AP)—Bodies of 120 Japanese soldiers, bayoneted or shot by their comrades as they lay in bed, have been discovered in an abandoned enemy field hospital on northern Luzon, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced today. Even before American troops made the gruesome discovery in an enemy hospital at Bayombong north of Manila, evidence had been accumulated that the Japanese ordered the ruthless extermination of their wounded.

Elements of the 129th Infantry Regiment under Col. John D. Finderick, Springfield, Ill., made the latest discovery in two school buildings used as a Japanese field hospital.

Some of the wounded Japanese had been bayoneted on their wooden cots. The greater number had bullets in their temples.

The Japs had withdrawn before the hospital could be set ablaze, permitting Army Signal Corps photographers to make a record of the appalling scene of death.

Headquarters also released extracts from Japanese documents and statements by prisoners captured by the Americans citing the enemy's attitude toward his own sick and wounded, a spokesman adding: "This is the best evidence we can glean to prove that the Japanese slaughter their wounded."

(According to reports by other press associations, quoting Gen. MacArthur's headquarters, nearly all of the 82,012 Jap wounded in the Philippines campaign died or were put to death on orders of their officers.)

One order by the commanding officer of the Japanese Second Armored Division's Seventh Tank Regiment read:

"Concerning those wounded: Men who are slightly wounded will participate in this battle. When men wounded are not able to participate in battle, their unit leaders will see to it that they end their lives."

Another field order of a general commanding the 58th Independent Mixed Brigade read: "You are hereby ordered to execute all sick and wounded soldiers when your company headquarters are about to be penetrated by the enemy."

The commander of the Manila defense force ordered those too sick or badly wounded to fight to commit mass suicide in a corner of Santiago fortress, according to another captured field order.

As the Manila battle rose in intensity, a second order from the commander said: "Prior to the all-out suicide attack, the wounded will be made to commit suicide. Every man will attack until he achieves a glorious death."

A Jap naval air lieutenant from Bataan said under questioning that he was ordered by Com. Sato "to tell all patients to prepare to die honorably" after the situation became hopeless on the peninsula.

"He returned to the hospital," a transcript of his questioning continued, "assembled the remaining medical aides from other hospitals and told them of Com. Sato's orders.

"Those patients who were able and wanted to die were given hand grenades and pistols. One prisoner of war admitted he killed two patients with a sword; the remainder who could not do it themselves were killed by dynamiting the entrance to each ward in such a way that the explosives caused each tunnel ward to cave in."

A MacArthur spokesman said: "We want America to know what kind of a cruel, inhuman soldier we are up against."

PRO-BURIAL MASS—A pro-burial mass in St. Catherine's Church, Charlestown, will be celebrated Wednesday at 9 for Marine Pvt. John W. Roy, 19, of Chelsea st., Charlestown, killed on Okinawa recently. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roy.

Bigger U. S. Bomb

LONDON, June 23 (AP)—The Tokyo radio said today American bombers in recent raids on Jap cities had dropped "a new type of incendiary bomb of a very large type never before used."

Fighter Planes Rip Hirohito Homeland

By Associated Press

More than 100 American fighter planes from Okinawa and Iwo Jima streaked over Japan today following up a record series of Superfort raids which U. S. commanders said will soon reach 1000 plane proportions to "pave the way for invasion."

The fighters' rockets, bombs and machinegun bullets were a stinging answer to renewed suicide air attacks at Okinawa.

Japanese radio commentators reported Tokyo and southern Japan are prepared to meet invading assault forces, but cautioned that American forces were preparing to land on the China coast in conjunction with a sweeping counter-offensive on the mainland, which Chungking spokesmen said was in the making.

The situation is so acute that one Tokyo commentator said Emperor Hirohito may personally assume rule of Japan. His cabinet took over dictatorial powers to rule by imperial decree today.

Japan's "present crisis is unprecedented in scope in her national history," Hirohito told his people.

His message was issued in connection with the promulgation of the voluntary military service act and "graciously" expressed his satisfaction at the "valor and courage" of his people.

American troops and Filipino guerrillas bottled up the last sizable Japanese force still opposing Yank troops with a surprise landing at Aparri, northernmost port in the Philippines.

The action trapped more than 20,000 Nips in a 65 mile stretch between Aparri and Tuguegarao, held by guerrillas.

Tenth Army troops mopping up on Okinawa were busiest segregating prisoners who crawled out of caves and surrendered in bewildering numbers. Almost all were wounded but well-fed.

Others were committing suicide. In one group 160 blew themselves up with grenades. But three small pockets continued to fight to the death.

At a formal flag raising ceremony signaling American conquest Marine Lt. Gen. Roy S. Geiger said, "We have met the Jap on his homeland and with his crack troops and . . . we have destroyed him."

Assign New Polish Cabinet Posts Soon

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, June 23 (AP)—Assignment of cabinet posts in a new Polish government of national unity is expected to be made in Warsaw early next week following the announcement last night that a major stumbling block in Allied harmony had been removed by agreement of rival Polish factions on the structure of the new regime.

A statement issued by the three-man commission authorized by the Big Three at the Crimea conference to deal with the Polish problem said representatives of the Soviet-sponsored Warsaw government, former members of the London exiled government, and democratic leaders from Poland had agreed upon formation of the new administration.

Coincident with the announcement of the accord in Moscow a movement was launched from inside Poland to induce all roles abroad to return and aid in rebuilding their war-shattered country.

English Channel Tunnel Plan Revived

Japs Say 20 More U. S. Ships KO'd Off Okinawa

By ROBIN COONS

GUAM, June 23 (AP)—Tokyo radio claimed suicide pilots, continuing attacks which sank two American ships and damaged three off Okinawa the same day Americans conquered the island, crashed into at least 20 more vessels last night and today.

Unconfirmed enemy broadcasts asserted an unidentified Allied warship was known to have been sunk in Friday night raids which scored "considerable successes." Kamikaze (suicide) pilots returning after daylight hit 19 others, Tokyo said, including two battleships, three destroyers and 14 unidentified vessels.

Latest confirmed enemy air attacks began Thursday night and continued until noon Friday. Adm. Nimitz announced two light naval units were sunk, an auxiliary was heavily damaged, and two light craft were damaged.

The two American vessels sunk and the one heavily damaged were hit Thursday night. In daylight Friday American fighters drove off all but a few of the raiders, Nimitz announced.

The Japs previously had sunk 31 ships and damaged more than 50, mostly by suicide tactics, during the Okinawa campaign.

U. S. Pledges No Abuse of Power

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—Acting Sec. of State Grew declared today America's power—the greatest on earth—"cannot for a moment be left idle like money in an old sock."

"Our power is a fact," Grew said, which "must be recognized by ourselves as it is recognized by the rest of the world.

"We should not be afraid to talk about it, but we should take care neither to whisper nor to shout about it; neither boast nor apologize."

Grew termed the problems connected with the proper use of this power the greatest challenge to the American people in their history.

In an address prepared for the first commencement exercises of the School of Advanced International Studies of the Foreign Service Educational Foundation, Grew said:

"We shall use our military power as we have used it in two world wars—in the service of law and justice and human freedom—in other words, in the service of peace on earth."

Find 75 Million Hungarian Cache

ROSENHEIM, Germany, June 23 (AP)—A cache of royal Hungarian treasures valued by American authorities at $75,000,000 has been uncovered by U. S. 42nd Division infantrymen at Mattsee, 13 miles northeast of Salzburg, Austria.

The cache included gold, silver, jewels and, what officers said, was the diamond, ruby and pearl-studded "holy hand of St. Stephen," King of Hungary from 997 to 1039 A. D.

Six leather bags belonging to the former puppet premier of Hungary, Ferenc Szalasi, were found filled with gold, silver, diamonds, other jewels and tapestries, and one strongbox contained the Franz Joseph royal Hungarian crown silver. An infantry patrol of the 42nd, gathering collaborators, also arrested Szalasi's wife.

Fierce Natives Tamed by WAC At Shangri-La

By RALPH MORTON

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, June 21 (Delayed) (AP)—Those strange, spear-wielding tribesmen of New Guinea's Hidden Valley are a docile lot in the presence of pretty WAC Cpl. Margaret Hastings of Oswego, N. Y.

I was told about it today as I flew in a plane over the camp where Miss Hastings and two Army airmen await rescue after surviving a plane crash May 13 in which 20 others were killed.

Capt. Cecil Walters, parachute leader of the ground forces organizing a glider rescue of the trio, radioed up to me that Miss Hastings is the sharpest trader of the lot.

The natives like to do business with her.

"Those natives will take stuff from her that they won't take from the rest of us," Capt. Walters said.

Because the natives have a weakness for sea shells, the trio and the paratroop rescue party have seven pigs and are thriving on pork.

Although planes carrying food and rescue equipment fly daily over the valley, isolated in the towering Oranje Mountains, 150 miles southwest of Hollandia, the natives still hold them in awe.

Russians Weigh Demobilization

MOSCOW, June 23 (AP)—The 1000 delegates to the 12th session of the supreme Soviet were scheduled today to discuss a proposal to demobilize the Red Army on a scale running into millions of men in the 13 oldest age groups.

The proposal was announced at the opening session by Chief of Staff Alexei Antonov. It is almost certain to be accepted, and ages in the 13 classes were not stipulated.

(The Moscow radio, heard in London, said generous cash payments were proposed for released soldiers. The law would require councils of the people's commissars, factory managers and other responsible groups to provide employment within a month of their return to civilian life, in positions not lower than those they held before joining the army.)

Women File Food Plea

By PAULINE WARREN

NEW YORK, June 23—Plight of Boston and New England housewives in perhaps the nation's greatest food shortage today was studied by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey after a forceful presentation by Mrs. Marion M. Wilkins of Brookline, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Women's Committee for United Action.

MRS. MARION M. WILKINS
Leader in Fight for Food

The well known Bay State leader had come here from Boston to voice New England's needs and plead for a thorough smashing of a rampaging black market.

But the meeting was closed to the public and she was forced to present the story of the housewives' tribulations in a communication to Gov. Dewey. It was expected that the plea, which echoed the experiences of millions of women buyers—those who have bourne the brunt of shortages—would be read into the records.

The message of the committee to Gov. Dewey was as follows:

"As executive chairman of the Women's Committee for United Action, I came here with the idea that your meeting with the governors would be open to the public, and since it isn't, I am taking this means of bringing to your attention some critical facts in the food shortage picture which our committee feels should have the attention of your distinguished group.

"Conditions in Boston, typical of hundreds of other Massachusetts communities, are at their worst. Through OPA and War Food Administration bungling, we have seen our foods, one by one, vanish from the market.

"First meat, then poultry vanished and now we have a black market which is taking even the breeding hens from the farms to produce a further famine of eggs. Then potatoes are added to the list.

"This can't be just a matter of stupidity on the part of OPA. One could understand mismanagement and bungling on one or two items, but when it affects all energy producing foods it is asking too much of citizens' understanding and good will.

"Massachusetts has food lines blocks long. People stand for hours for three eggs.

"Soldiers, weary and home from the war, are discouraged to find wives and children hungry for really substantial food. Thousands of veterans are returning daily and up to the present time neither OPA nor WFA have made any effort to get the Army to release food from its huge stocks to feed these boys who are being furloughed for 30 days on an already burdened and overstrained economy. This is something that should be taken care of immediately.

"Our committee knows of many instances of soldiers and sailors home on sick leave who stand from early morning to noon before Boston markets until it finally becomes their privilege to get a pound of stew meat or a few pigs feet or an ox-tail for their families.

"Our first food riots took place Wednesday when a line of weary women, told by a market proprietor that his chickens were all sold, stormed the market, broke windows and ripped open boxes and barrels. They were not quelled until police arrived.

"When you consider that there are more cattle on the range and in refrigeration than ever before in our history and yet no meat on our plate; when you consider that we are paying $660,000,000 in subsidies to packers and millions more in OPA salaries and yet we cannot eat, do you wonder that we women say our economy is your responsibility?

"Our chief concern right now is that there be an even and overall distribution to all areas of the country and to all dealers, large and small.

"We don't care how you do it, but you must force WFA to give an even distribution of meat to all outlets. We are looking to you for a solution and a plan of action to get energy building proteins—meat and eggs—back into our individual markets and homes.

"And we congratulate you heartily for the good judgment shown in getting together here today."

Quiz Boy, Girl In Springfield Icebox Killing

HAZEL LAURIE
Murder Clues Sought

SPRINGFIELD, June 23 — A 14-year-old boy and a 9-year-old girl, friends of 6-year-old Hazel Laurie, whose body was found entombed in an icebox under the rear porch of her Union st. home, were taken to police headquarters today for questioning.

Dist. Atty. Charles R. Alberti, who announced the child had been the victim of a sex crime, had ordered questioning of all her playmates in an effort to find a clue to her slayer.

Cause of the child's death, Alberti disclosed, had been determined without question in an autopsy performed by Dr. Alan R. Moritz, State Police pathologist, and Medical Examiner George L. Shadt.

The only evidence in the hands of authorities were the victim's underclothing and a blood-stained newspaper, which were found near the unused icebox, the district attorney admitted. He appealed to all persons in the neighborhood to give police any information that might be helpful.

"The child was the victim of a vicious assault Thursday between 6 and 10 p. m.," he said. "She died as a result of the attack."

Hazel, one of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Laurie, had been missing since 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

The body was found by Mrs. Mary Gilbert, a neighbor.

WASHINGTON, June 23 (INS)—Randolph Paul, former general counsel to the treasury, disclosed today that he has been retained by Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt in the current income tax inquiry being made by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Army Plans Meat Cut to Aid Civilians

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The Army will cut down sharply on its purchases of meats during the next 60 days in a government move to increase civilian supplies.

The government previously had announced lend-lease shipments of meat will be suspended during the July-September quarter.

This plan of reduced military buying is apparently what President Truman had in mind when he told a news conference Thursday he expected an improvement in civilian meat supplies.

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones has signed an order, effective July 1, reducing the portion of beef which federally-inspected slaughterers must set asidefor military and other government agencies.

Such slaughterers will be required to set aside 30 instead of 50 per cent of cohice, good and commercial grades of beef, and 65 instead of 75 per cent of canner and cutter grades, for the government.

It is possible the Army will not take its full allocation under these reduced set-aside figures during July and August.

Jones has signed another order designed to make more poultry meat available to civilians in the eastern part of the country. For months the Army has taken the full output of poultry meat in a highly specialized production area including parts of Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. After July 1, about 30 per cent of the poultry from this area will be released to civilians and hospitals.

Points for Meat Alone Urged by Governors

By DONALD MacPHAIL
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 23—Governors of 13 northeastern states, in a report on food distribution and black market operations, today recommended an immediate and major overhauling of the ration point system, with "points granted to consumers for meats alone, separate and distinct from all other foods."

GOVS. DALE, N. H.; McGRATH, R. I.; DEWEY, N. Y.
Discuss Black Market Food Situation in New England

In a concluding nine-page joint statement reporting on their all-day food conference, the governors added: "Only in this way, and with rigid enforcement on a national basis, can every person get the share of our national meat supply to which he or she is entitled."

Other findings included in the governors' final report were:

One person or agency must have final responsibility for all phases of the food program, and enforcement must be uniform and nation-wide to achieve equitable distribution of avilable supplies.

Immediate revision of present regulations which encourage sale of a disproportionate share of meats to hotels, restaurants and night clubs by allowing a price differential favoring these outlets.

Promulgation of regulations to provide for seasonal variations in population. (This recommendation is of special importance to Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont because of the influx of thousands of vacationists this summer.)

The governors declared the present quota system on slaughtering was tending to reduce supplies of meat available through legitimate channels.

"Farmers cannot sell to plants which have exhausted their quotas," the report said, "and such products thus are forced into the black market since there is no legitimate market for them.

"Since the quota system appears to be operating to prevent increases of meat in legitimate channels, it should be re-examined critically with a view to local quota fixing based on conditions and needs."

The report pointed out that effective control of meat distribution must be established at some central point and named the slaughterer as the logical place to set up control.

"During the past few years," it continued, "there has been an enormous increase in the number of such slaughterers. The Senate food investigating committee estimated that 26,000 permits had been issued throughout the country to other than farm slaughterers as compared with a normal of 2000.

"According to the committee: 'This large increase in slaughterers complicated enforcement and provided increased opportunity for hotels, restaurants and night clubs to obtain meat without ration points and above ceilings. We have testimony many of them did.'

"These new slaughterers have been described as a 'prolific source of black market meat.'

"This leak in the flow of supplies must be closed. The elimination of most of these new slaughterers, who have recently entered the business, would be an

Senate Hearings Seen Swaying Big 3 Action

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23 (AP)—Senate Committee hearings may swing a heavy part at President Truman's meeting with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill at Berlin next month. The time-table of the hearings has now been laid down, although it is subject for revision or even discard.

Final decision will be made after Senators Connally (D.) of Texas and Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan return to Washington next week. They will report to the Senate on accomplishments of the United Nations Conference in which they are participating as members of the United States delegation.

Connally predicts the Senate eventually will ratify the charter with a comfortable edge over the needed two-thirds vote—64 senators out of 96 when all are present and voting. That may not be before September, allowing a month for debate.

The expectation is that the hearings will begin about July, in time to have them opened by Secretary of State Stettinius just before he leaves with Mr. Truman for Germany. That means the hearings will be under way while the Big-Three are discussing post-war problems of Europe and the world.

President Truman had hoped at one time he might arrive in Berlin with Senate ratification of the Charter in his pocket. He was represented as considering that an effective reassurance to the other big powers that this country was determined to retain its full role in world affairs.

Now the question is becoming one of the effect of the hearings on the Big-Three. Indications are that some vociferous opposition to ratification, at least unqualified ratification, may develop early in the hearings.

It is expected that the hearings will last about two weeks, beginning in mid-July and that Senate debate will take at least a month. This would hold little prospect of final Senate action before September.

Truman Foresees Charter Approval

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 23 (AP)—President Truman was authoritatively reported today to have counted less than a dozen potential votes against the peace organization charter he is expected to submit to the Senate July 2.

Sources close to the Chief Executive said he has talked personally with virtually every member of the Senate and that he is optimistic over prospects for overwhelming ratification.

He is even hopeful that ratification, far above the necessary two-thirds majority, can be accomplished without undue delay.

He would like to see it done before his forthcoming meeting with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill in mid-July.

The President is said to be in the confidence of many senators whose votes supporting the peace charter may prove surprising.

His own affection for the senators among whom he served before Franklin D. Roosevelt's death sent him to the White House is said to be a big factor in the ultimate decision.

There was no official comment from the President's vacation offices, but it was generally understood that he will submit the charter to the Senate a week from Monday.

Chairman Connally (D.) of Texas of the Senate foreign relations committee and Sen. Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan are expected to pave the way for the charter's submission in the Senate next Thursday and Friday.

12th Army Group Quitting Saxony

WEISBADEN, Germany, June 23 (AP)—Officers of the 12th Army group headquarters disclosed today that American troops will evacuate all of Thuringaria, a corner of Saxony just north of the Czechoslovak border and the western half of Halle-Merseburg.

The disclosure was made in an amplification of teh announcement yesterday that American and Russian commanders had agreed upon the evacuation of seven U. S. divisions from a bulge in territory alloted for Soviet occupation.

The U. S. 11th and Fifth Armored and 69th, 102nd and 76th Infantry divisions will take part in the evacuation, as well as the U. S. Sixth Armored and 30th Infantry divisions.

Before the end of the summer the 12th Army group headquarters will be withdrawn to the United States and either will be held in strategic reserve or demobilized, officers said.

State Bond Sales Exceed Billion

War Bond sales in the Seventh War Loan drive in Massachusetts totaled $1,044,000,000 today, the state war finance committee announced.

Included in the total were Series E sales amounting to $85,400,400,000 which was 61 per cent of the state's $140,000,000 quota.

Sales to individuals totaled $202,100,000 or 85 per cent of the goal in that category.

Corporation purchases totaled $756,500,000, more than 163 per cent of the $462,000,000 quota.

If You Want to Eat, Better Go to Canada

Vexed and bewildered Bostonians—weary after hours of non-productive shopping—today could find little consolation in scanning the happy advertisements in Canadian papers.

A hungry populace, and OPA officials as well, don't know how the Canadians do it, but they do it.

Montreal newspapers and those of other cities to the north offer abundance of fresh fowl at 37 cents a pound, spring chickens at 45, leg of veal at 27, chuck roast of beef at 29, brisket at 15, and choice "western exhibition show" prime roast of beef at 33.

Of course, any and all of these items aren't even advertised in our Boston papers, and those who play the black market are paying about 65 cents a pound for fowl.

Here in Boston we do still have certain items advertised, such as butter at 47c, if you have 24 valuable red points, and strawberries at 57c, a quart box. (They're 75 on the road in Marshfield.)

Montreal advertises butter at 37 and strawberries at 39 a quart.

The footsore Boston housewife, who has for two weeks been seeking soap flakes for baby's undergarments, can't be too happy to know that Ivory flakes are plentiful in the Canadian provinces at 22c a package and that there is plenty of soap of all varieties.

Lettuce is another bone of contention, for here we pay 17 to 25c a head for nondescript lettuce, while Montreal papers advertise iceberg at 5c.

Just try to get a can of chicken soup in Greater Boston. It's omitted from the ads of our local chain stores, yet the Canadians have it—without limit—three cans for 20c.

Fresh asparagus is offered in Montreal for 17c a pound, while the price here ranges from 45 up.

Boston may be the fishing center of North America, but you'd never know it by prices—you'd think Boston was tucked away in the Mohave Desert.

Halibut that sells frozen here for 75c a pound is advertised—fresh caught—in Montreal at 39c, while fresh-caught salmon, which sells for at least 75c, can be freely purchased up north for 45c. Boiled lobsters sell for 50c a pound in Montreal with lobster meat at $2 a pound, but Boston fish markets want 75c for boiled and $4 to $4.50 a pound for meat.

The Boston housewife who hesitates plenty before paying 50c a pound for tomatoes could have tomato salad every meal at Montreal prices. They are only 19c a pound.

And the catch on tomatoes is that the Canadian offering is labelled, "Imported U. S. No. 1."

Yes, the Canadians have canned beans, cheese, salad dressing, potatoes, dried apples and many other items the Boston housewife looks and looks for, without success.

Our Boston advertisements have one item that the Canadian papers do not feature in their ads. It is dog food. One Boston advertisement yesterday carried ads on four different kinds of dog biscuits and dog meat, but it only filled space where once was advertised meat for human consumption.

Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine J. Bell Connors, 63, wife of former Racing commr. Charles F. Connors, will be held Monday with a solemn high mass of requiem at 10 a. m. in St. Ignatius' Church, Boston College.

Besides her husband, she leaves three sisters, Mrs. Delia Sullivan of Brockton, and Mrs. Elizabeth H. Fahey and Mrs. Alice J. Broderick of Allston.

First Overseas WACs Arrive

In tune to another of Boston's now famous, noisy welcomes, 1416 veterans of the European war—including nurses, WAC's and 1052 wounded—trooped off the Army transport George W. Goethals at Commonwealth Pier today and soon were en route to Camp Edwards and Camp Myles Standish.

The returning heroes arrived in the harbor at sunset last night, but debarkation did not begin until today, when an appropriate port welcome could be staged.

Included in the group were 36 decorated veterans, sole survivors of the "Puka Puka" Hawaiian-American Division, who won undying fame in the rescue of the Lost Battalion in the Vosges mountains in France.

A good story was told by Pvt. LaFave of Salem st., Malden, who was captured, then escaped and later was wounded during his stay overseas with the 26th Division.

LaFave puffed contentedly on a great big German cigar, selected from a stock he estimated will last him for the duration.

He was captured in December, 1944, in France, but made a quick escape the next day when American artillery began coming over on the German lines.

"I decided to get back to our lines before I got hurt, so I just beat it and arrived back with my unit without a scratch."

His big supply of rich cigars were laid in when his unit later captured a whole trainload of smokes destined for high ranking Nazis. "We got plenty," he said. "They're great smokes, too."

Another happy to be back was S-SGT. Paul E. Bordeleau, 23, of Union st., Pittsfield, who made six jumps with the 17th Airborne Division during 18 months overseas. He said the worst time came when he jumped for the rescue at Bastogne, although he later was wounded in a leap near Essen.

"I don't want to see any more of it," he said. "I've had enough to last me a lifetime."

Also among them was a GI grandad, Charles W. Churchill, 45, of Meriden, Ct., a veteran of both world wars. He has two sons in service, Richard, 20, in Germany, and Bud, 22, in Burma. His first wish was to see his granddaughter, Eugenia 3.

Maj. R. H. McCabe of South Acton, former Boston lawyer, in command of the transport's military personnel, said no single group of fighting men produced a finer record for bravery than the Puka Pukas.

Among the returning WACs was 27-year-old Edna Dean of Brooklyn, N. Y., former vaudeville star, who sang and danced with the troops in England, France, Belgium and Germany. She wore the ETO ribbon with a campaign star, received at the time of the Ardennes Bulge.

One Greater Boston officer, Maj. Vano J. Johnson of Wheeler st., Medford, whose wife, Billie, is a dental technician in Boston, was among those returning for 45-day rest furloughs. He served 22 months in Iceland, and 18 months in England with the Medical Administration Corps.

Saipan Hero's Medal to Mother

For gallantry on Saipan July 8, when he exposed himself to fatal enemy fire to enable his platoon to capture a strategic Jap position, the Navy Cross was awarded posthumously today to Pvt. Norman Arsenault, USMCR, of Kingston st., Lawrence.

The decoration was presented to his mother, Mrs. Emma Arsenault, by Maj. Eric W. Ojerholm, USMC, at Boston Navy Yard while the yard's Marine detachment stood at attention.

In the award Pvt. Arsenault was cited for "extraordinary heroism while serving with the Second Marine Division. Pvt. Arsenault boldly exposed himself to an intense barrage of machine gun and rifle fire to wade out into the ocean and observe and direct his platoon's fire into the position. On his return he was fatally wounded while crossing the open expanse."

Ideal Vacation Weather on Tap

Temperature in the 90's was predicted for Sunday by the weatherman today.

The warm, sunny weather of today will be followed by "sunny and quite hot" on Sunday, G. Harold Noyes, weather bureau meteorologist, said.

Adding to the ideal summer weather today was the low humidity, which gave Boston one of the driest warm days in several weeks. Noyes said today's highest temperature would be about 87 degrees.

Nothing is expected to mar the perfect weather before Monday, when a possibility of thunder showers is foreseen.

Cantor In Boston For Benefit Show

Bounding with energy, enthusiasm mirrored in his famed banjo-eyes, Eddie Cantor led his radio troupe into Boston today for tomorrow's mammoth, all-state "Salute to Bataan" show at Boston Garden, arranged by the Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

His schedule filled every minute for his stay in Boston, during which he will preside as master of ceremonies at the big Garden benefit, Cantor's first business on reaching Boston was to entertain wounded soldiers.

With members of his radio company, Cantor joined six Hollywood notables who arrived earlier, for a trip to Camp Myles Standish, Taunton, where they will visit all wards this afternoon.

Meanwhile, in Boston, all preparations were completed for tomorrow's gala performance. Garden officials announced that a special system for cooling the huge auditorium has been set up, so that no matter what the temperature outside, the Garden will be comfortable.

The six who preceded Cantor and his microphone family to the Hub were beautiful Ellen Drew, star of RKO's new "China Sky", husky John Wayne and dark-eyed Fely Franquelli, stars of "Back to Bataan," the RKO epic of Yankee diehards and Filipino guerdillas; Anthony Quinn and Ducky Louie, supporting players in the film and Jesse Lasky, the RKO ace producer and movie pioneer.

In Cantor's troupe are his newest discovery, pretty Monica Lewis; Leonard Sues, one of the nation's outstanding trumpet players; Bea Walker, song stylist, and Fred Martel, vocalist.

They, the Hollywood six and a host of other luminaries of the entertainment world will be on the Garden stage tomorrow night, participating in the show of shows which has been arranged as a salute to "Back to Bataan" and also as a means of raising funds for a badly needed downtown center for servicemen's wives and mothers.

It will be an unmatched program, with Benny Goodman, undisputed "King of Swing," as another shining light, with practically three complete night club shows and a couple of radio shows, a stage show—and much more.

All at popular prices, with a selection of tickets still available at the three selling points—the Boston Garden box office, from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.; the Wm. Filene's Sons Co. booth, first floor balcony, in store hours, and the Keith Memorial Theater booth, Washington st. lobby, presided over between 11 a. m. and 6 p. m. by pretty Betty Bradford of Brookline, singer with Greater Boston bands.

While they last—and you'd better hurry—the tickets are priced at $1.20, $2.40 and $3.60. No more.

Because of the number of acts and the extraordinary array of talent, the show start has been advanced to 8 o'clock tomorrow night. John Kiley, the WMEX organist, will provide music before "curtain time," and the program then will be opened with singing of the national anthem by Marion Mulhall, favorite at the Music Box and Jimmie O'Keefe's Grill and known to men in all New England veterans' hospitals as the "Boston Thrush."

You will see and hear during this scintillating evening, little Richard Korbel, famed as a concert pianist though only aged 11. And you will see and hear Benny Goodman, now appearing at the RKO-Boston, with his 24-piece band and his sextet, featuring Red Norvo, his former drummer; Dorothy Keller, comedy dancing star of the Broadway hit, "Follow the Girls," but now with Goodman, and Tim Herbert, comedy and dance star, also appearing with the maestro at the RKO-Boston.

There will, of course, be side-splitting Romo Vincent, currently of "Marinka," at the Shubert theater. And still that isn't all. You will have the following:

From the New Bradford roof: Jackie Miles, one-man show and the season's laugh king.

From the Latin Quarter: Comical Chaz Chase, the voice of Paddy Cliff, the 14 Don Arden Girls, Tony Bruno and his celebrated 25-piece band.

From Club Mayfair: Johnny Howard, Hollywood's favorite funster; the Whitney Sisters, entrancing dance team; the Crosby Sisters, comedians of song; the Six Dancing Mayfairettes.

From the Yankee Network: Ray Dorey, Jean Merrill, Ted Cole and the Gallagher Sisters, noted singers.

Five hundred wearers of the Purple Heart, awarded for wounds received in action.

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, resident Philippines commissioner to the U. S. and member of Gen. MacArthur's staff, the man responsible for Boston, as the Cradle of American Liberty, having the world premiere of "Back to Bataan," the story of his own people's similar fight for liberty.

Here are the locations where you may still buy tickets for Sunday night's big benefit show at Boston Garden:

Wm. Filene's Sons Co. booth, first floor balcony, during store hours.

Keith Memorial Theater booth, Washington st. lobby, between 11 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Seats at all three places are at the same popular prices: $1.20, $2.40 and $3.60.

Hero Chaplain Speaks at VFW Conference

Shorn of the traditional fun-making and pageantry due to wartime conditions, the 25th annual conference of the Massachusetts Department of Veterans of Foreign Wars opened today in Gardner Auditorium, State House.

Maj. John J. Dugan, S. J., Army chaplain, imprisoned by the Japs for nearly three years, was the principal speaker at the morning session.

He declared, "It is our duty to the young people returning from the war to give them fair treatment. God help our nation and ourselves as individuals if we do not do so."

The hero priest criticized wartime strikes, declaring "I have no sympathy with any group which strikes in wartime."

The delegates considered nearly 100 resolutions dealing with post-war problems, including conditions in veterans' hospitals.

Among the resolutions adopted were recommendations that a Gold Star Mothers memorial be erected in a national park; that servicemen and women be given social security credit for time served in the armed forces; that no permanent civil service appointments be made until six months after final peace.

Rev. Patrick J. Lydon of St. Mark's Church, Dorchester, national and department chaplain for the past six years, delivered the invocation.

Presiding officer was Dept. Com. Charles W. Frascotti. He announced the election would be held Sunday.

The VFW ladies' auxiliary held its annual encampment at Faneuil Hall while the state conference was in session.

Joint memorial exercises in honor of the dead of World War II will be conducted tomorrow.

101st Canteen Show Tonight

World War II veterans will be guests of the 101st Infantry Veterans' Ass'n tonight at a special show staged at the Stagedoor Canteen.

The show will be put on under direction of William Coffey, president of the association, and Hughie Madden, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Among the entertainers will be the Scanlan Sisters, Jerry Shea, well-known Boston tenor, and the songstress, Marion Mulhall, who many of the returning veterans have heard overseas.

It's a picnic...Have a Coke

...a friendly way to keep everyone happy

Have a Coke is a friendly phrase right in the carefree picnic spirit. There's friendliness in every sip of ice-cold Coca-Cola. There's life, sparkle and goodness that bring out the sunny side in everybody. Yes, Coke always makes picnic time, or any time, refreshment time.

"Coke"=Coca-Cola
You naturally hear Coca-Cola called by its friendly abbreviation "Coke". Both mean the quality product of The Coca-Cola Company.

Rationing

important step in controlling the flow of meat products."

Calling for immediate overhauling of the red ration point setup, the governors declared:

"There is something basically wrong with a ration system when consumers must wait in line as long as two hours and then may not get their share of the rationed product, or are induced to pay gratuities to salesmen to obtain their share."

"Our difficulty is our faulty rationing system. This is the only country in the world which combines the rationing of meats with that of fats, butter, cheese, and canned fish. Under these conditions, meat tends to flow to the communities from which the biggest profit can be obtained. Other centers obtain less than their share of meat and must therefore use more canned fish and cheese.

"We conclude, therefore, in this particular problem that a major overhauling of the point system is immediately imperative and that points should be granted to consumers for meats alone, separate and distinct from all other foods."

While asserting they realized the importance of restaurants in feeding a huge transient population, the governors said they were convinced there was "an inequity in our distributive system which must be corrected by more effective control over the supplies available to public eating establishments."

Any attempt by a group of states, or by any one state, to enforce price ceilings on a rigid basis would simply result in a diversion of food to other areas where enforcement is less or non-existent, the governors said.

Their report termed New England a "deficit area" for meat and many other basic supplies, which depends on shipments from other sections for up to 90 per cent of its meat.

"When a large percentage of a basic commodity can be found only in illegal markets, as is the case today, we are threatened with a breakdown of ration and price control," the report continued. "Where the commodity is as essential as meat, that means the wholesalers and retailers are forced to deal illegally or not at all. It means that the consumer is forced to deal illegally—or go hungry.

"The OPA has about 3000 enforcement agents, which amounts to one for each county in the United States. It has recently received funds greatly to increase its enforcement staff. But when, where and how is still to be decided. Until that result is achieved, the black market will continue.

"Each state should co-operate with federal authorities, but it is apparent in the food supply situation that states cannot take over the federal function of enforcement of OPA regulations.

"Food supplies for the armed forces are of prime consideration. But the time has come when there should be better co-operation between procurement officers for the armed forces, lend lease and other agencies dealing with the relief of liberated areas and civilian supplies.

"Our food program has been plagued from its inception by the multiplicity of agencies given responsibility over different phases of the program.

"The Office of Economic Stabilization has acted as umpire to resolve some of the conflicts between OPA and WFA with the inevitable delay involved under such a system. It will take much reorganization to bring co-ordination to federal action.

"It is our conclusion that one person or agency must have final responsibility for all phases of the food program, if we are to bring order out of chaos."

Your doctor, who is the first to detect a need for rest in others, has driven himself without mercy in wartime. He serves his own patients as well as those of absent physicians, yet finds time to keep abreast of medicine's many wartime discoveries.

Most people were quick to appreciate the doctor's sacrifices and looked for ways to encourage him. They attended his First Aid classes and learned to call him only when absolutely necessary. They volunteered to assist overtaxed nurses in crowded hospitals . . . and turned his dream of a national blood bank into a magnificent reality.

Today the word, "cooperation", has a fuller meaning in America. The threat to our freedom has rekindled an intense national spirit . . . revealed amazing capacities on the part of our people to help themselves and their fellow countrymen until victory is complete. They are strengthened for the road ahead. They should go far, indeed, in aiding our gallant younger generation get the reward it has earned and will go on earning—progress in a world at peace.

When a product maintains the character that people respect, they are quick to demand it. Generations ago, the makers of Budweiser set a standard—distinctive in taste, pure, good and distinguished for its uniform quality. That's why people everywhere have agreed that Budweiser is "something more than beer . . . a tradition". No wonder it is the most popular beer in history.

ANN MATTHEIS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Matthеis of Duxbury, becomes the bride of Henry S. Bonner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Bonner of Washington, D. C., in St. John the Evangelist Church, Duxbury, this afternoon. A garden reception follows.

The pretty blonde bride is wearing white silk jersey with a bandeau of Duchess lace in her hair and carrying white carnations and roses. Faith Bremer, the maid of honor, is also in white with a jersey top, net skirt, and carrying American Beauties.

The couple will live in Cambridge, where Mr. Bonner is studying at Harvard.

'Great John L' Here Wednesday

The life and "red plush" times of John L. Sullivan, Boston's cocky, young prize-fighter who became internationally celebrated in the late 19th century, will be unreeled on the Majestic Theater screen on Wednesday.

The eagerly anticipated world premiere of "The Great John L." . . . originally set for last Christmas . . . had been held back by the film shortage, the strike and story disagreements. It is Bing Crosby's initial production and Bing was scheduled to honor the Hub with his presence at the Dec. 25 unveiling here. So was Greg McClure, who was lifted from the extra ranks to play the title role.

Crosby is now on a bond tour and McClure has been inducted into the Army. It is highly probable, however, that interest in the handsome and colorful John L. is sufficient to pack the Majestic without additional attractions.

Linda Darnell and Barbara Britton are the picture's leading ladies. They play, respectively, Ann Livingstone, composite of several of the women in Sullivan's life including Maggie Cline, the Irish thrush, and Kathy Harkness, his childhood sweetheart.

The film, originally budgeted at $385,000, eventually made a $975,000 dent in the Bing Crosby Productions Co. purse. And, for the record, Bing disbanded this company to talk production plans with Leo McCarey and United Artists now has "The Great John L." under its wing.

'Ziegfeld Follies' Due Aug. 13

On Monday evening, August 13, MGM's most elaborate production, "Ziegfeld Follies," will be given a Boston world premiere.

Appropriately enough, the place will be the Colonial Theater, the historic American playhouse where the late, great showman of them all, Florenz Ziegfeld, regularly brought the original "Ziegfeld Follies" for a good-luck pre-Broadway engagement.

The occasion should revive a host of fond memories for the town's "Ziegfeld Follies" regulars. For them, the old Colonial stage will always be happily haunted by such world-famous entertainers as Will Rogers, Fanny Brice, Gallagher and Shean, Ed Wynn, Gilda Gray, Eddie Cantor, W. C. Fields and Ann Pennington.

And now a cinematic "Ziegfeld Follies" comes along, completely new but in the great tradition, according to the advance word. Heading the cast are Fred Astaire, Lucille Ball, Lucille Bremer, Fanny Brice, Judy Garland, Kathryn Grayson, Lena Horne, Gene Kelly, James Melton, Victor Moore, Red Skelton, Esther Williams and William Powell (as the great Ziegfeld himself).

SLANDER MONGERS

GEN. DOUGLAS MacARTHUR has been subjected to the necessity of refuting another of the mysterious and slanderous attacks upon him, to which he has been a particular prey throughout the present war.

In the current instance, the responsibility had been attributed to General MacArthur for preventing assignment of Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., to the Pacific theater of war after conclusion of his European mission.

This was exploited by various commentators as a particular injustice to General Patton, who had achieved spectacular success in Europe as a specialist in mechanized warfare and had vigorously petitioned the War Department for a similar assignment in the Pacific War—where it is anticipated that great land operations on the Asiatic mainland will ultimately develop, involving extensive use of the mechanized armaments which are his specialty.

The purported motive ascribed to General MacArthur was that of fear that General Patton, with his flare for dramatic behavior both on and off the field of battle, might "steal the show" from him.

The truth of the matter, as General MacArthur forthrightly said in a formal denial of the slanderous imputation, is that:

"I would be DELIGHTED to have General Patton and any or all good soldiers, if they are available, assigned to this command.

"I need all the help I can get."

IN FURTHER refutation of the vicious charge, an official spokesman for General MacArthur commented:

"There is not an iota of truth in the statement that General MacArthur has objected to the detail of General Patton to the Pacific.

"He has on a number of occasions expressed himself as not only an admirer of Patton's military qualities, but has often said he HOPED Patton and his Third Army might be transferred to the Pacific."

Why is it that General MacArthur is so often compelled to divert himself from his pressing and vital military duties to refute slanderous attacks, of which this is the most recent but not the most pernicious?

Ever since he took his important command in the Pacific, General MacArthur has been the target of persistent and venomous slanders.

It was said that he "escaped" from the Philippines ahead of the surrender of Bataan, when the truth was that President Roosevelt ORDERED him out of the Philippines because Australia was the only place resistance to the Japanese could be organized and General MacArthur was recognized as the only commander CAPABLE of organizing it successfully.

It was said that he aspired and conspired to be President of the United States, whereas he repeatedly RENOUNCED all political ambitions and declared it to be his sole purpose to return to the Philippines and keep faith with the men who had died there.

MANY LESSER slanders have been bandied about among civilians and the armed forces, some of them malicious and others merely ribald.

None of these slanders has HURT General MacArthur, because his brilliant record as a military commander and strategist speaks for itself.

But it gives all decent Americans a sense of SHAME that the man who has done so much to restore the dignity and prestige and honor of his country in the Pacific—probably the only man CAPABLE of doing it—is so constantly and persistently made the victim of irresponsible slander mongers.

The honored place of Gen. Douglas MacArthur is secure in the hearts of his countrymen.

He deserves more of the country he has served so well than these malevolent aspersions.

O, tell me what is woman's love,
That still it will burn on,
When faith and vows are broken all,
And even hope is gone?
It slumbers like volcanic fire
When all is ice above—
Consuming, all unseen, the heart;
O, this is woman's love.

LIKE THEIR masters, many of the major difficulties of dogs are due to that thing called love. When a pup wanders away and is lost or gets into some kind of a jam, his master may well say: "Cherchez la femme!" During a rabies quarantine in a New York State town, the dogcatcher was paid a fee of $4 for each dog he found wandering around the streets alone. And so what? This dastardly canine control officer acquired a female dog to lure male dogs from the limits of their happy homes. This female was quite a vamp. She would tempt a male from his yard to the street. Once the romantic male was in the street, the dogcatcher would grab him. Soon the dogcatcher was averaging $100 a week in stray dog fees. However, this unscrupulous man and his shameless accomplice were caught in the act of trying to lure a Great Dane from his front yard. As a result, the dogcatcher lost his job. The canine hussy that assisted him was tossed into the pound to await action.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What do you mean by making the ridiculous statement that when residents of New York city marry they usually stay married? It is in California that the marriages last longest. A—Says you! The records show that in Los Angeles, for example, one child in every five is from a home broken by divorce. In New York city only one child in 20 is from a home broken by divorce. Q—Most of your information about red-haired women seems to come by mail. These letters are no doubt written by red-haired women, who are usually very fond of praising themselves. When "Bugs" Baer said, "He was in love with her and so was she," he was probably talking about a redhead. Have you ever known a red-haired girl real well? A—I have known quite a few red-haired girls but possibly none so well as to qualify as an expert on the type. However, those who have had experience with the redheads speak quite highly of them. Maybe your experience has been with synthetic rather than the natural redheads.

HORSES & WOMEN: A New York woman receives $36 a week for doing the same job for the same firm for which a man is paid $50 a week. The woman states this difference in pay is unfair to the female sex. She has taken the matter up with government authorities. No doubt she has cause to complain. However, if she is a single woman and the man is a bachelor the latter needs a little more money. Doesn't he have to pay the expenses when he takes a woman out? Furthermore, he can't do his own laundry, mending, etc. If the man is married he has a wife and children to support. How many women support a husband and children? Of course, if a woman has been left with several children to support she needs as much money as a man. But two bachelor girls can live as cheaply as one bachelor.

WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate (Reproduction prohibited.)

WASHINGTON, June 23—The Pacific Coast halibut fleet ought to be returning to its home port of Seattle in a couple of weeks. Judging by reports of the greatest halibut run in years the fleet should bring in its full quota of fish—52,500,000 pounds.

This will be a tremendous contribution to our food supply. But the fleet almost didn't sail at all!

The Scandinavian seafarers, who make up almost the entire crews, refused to sail because they couldn't get snuff!

★ ★ ★

THERE'S HARDLY a veteran halibut fisherman not addicted to "snoose," as they call it. They do not sniff the snuff or snoose, however. They consider sniffing a sissy practice that should go with lace sleeves and Beau Brummell frilled shirts.

They "dip" it; meaning they stick a wad under the tongue and leave it there.

The fleet was due to sail May 1 for the annual halibut snatching, which lasts 60 to 70 days. But the fishermen discovered that the snuff manufacturers, mostly located in Chicago, had been put under a 10-day embargo — which meant no snuff was being shipped.

The fleet owners put in anguished calls to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington. The latter galloped into action. He yippied and howled around WPB and OPA so lustily the embargo was lifted, and rush shipments of "snoose" were sent to the halibut rasslers!

★ ★ ★

THE FLEET sailed on schedule, with—this is on the solemn word of Sen. Magnuson—the hardy Norsemen, facing into the sunrise, chanting in mournful numbers:

"Snoose is scarce
"From Alaska to Bimini—
"War is hell
"By Yumping Yimini!"

★ ★ ★

IT SEEMS there is a particular breed of canine known as the Missouri Blue Tick coon hound, and I am afraid Rep. Frank W. Boykin of Alabama is going to blow up and bust unless he can get at least two of these critters for President Truman.

Rep. Boykin has made a great vow that he will not rest until he sees a couple of Missouri Blue Tick coon hounds lolling on the White House lawn.

He has gained many staunch Congressional supporters for his Coon-Hound-for-Truman movement.

The determination to present the President with dogs of a breed named after his native State developed great strength after the President hinted to intimates that he and Mrs. Truman would sort of like to have a dog around now that they have a home with lawn attached.

They used to live in an apartment where dogs were distinctly unwelcome.

★ ★ ★

BOYKIN AND associates wish to get thoroughbred coon hounds for the President but they would like to get dogs that do not have a good home already.

"I think the President would like to feel he was providing a haven for a couple of homeless dogs," said Mr. Boykin. "Consequently, I visit the pound every day on the lookout for this breed. So far, however, no Missouri Blue Tick coon hounds have been brought in."

Mr. Boykin said he would keep trying but that if no coon hounds are brought to the pound he will make arrangements to procure them elsewhere.

FORMER SENATOR WALSH of New Jersey is an accomplished violinist.

Last year he used to play at quite a few official gatherings with a Senator from Missouri as his piano accompanist.

Walsh has left Washington to resume his chores as a big Edison Company executive, but his pianist is still around town, although not doing much piano playing publicly.

He is sort of tied up with other work.

The other day Walsh was here and remarked there seemed to be a future in piano playing.

"However," he added, "I will admit that only one accompanist of mine ever made the Presidency!"

★ ★ ★

ON RETURNING HOME, much impressed by the way things are going in Washington, Walsh wired his ex-piano player:

HOLLYWOOD, June 23—Jesse Lasky and Walter MacEwen do not start their first independent picture at RKO for two weeks, so that will give John Wayne time to get rid of those few extra pounds. Yes, John has gained weight and is too good looking and popular an actor not to lose poundage now.

Claudette Colbert

After those few scolding words, let me tell you about John's new job. He'll be hero in Claudette Colbert's next, "Thanks God, I'll Take It From Here." Claudette, by the way, returned from Pebble Beach today.

While on the subject of Jesse Lasky—he is en route to New York and Boston.

P. S. Just heard not five minutes ago that Mervin Le Roy is directing, a break for all concerned. He'll do it before he gets into "The Robe."

THEY'RE WHOOPING up the next "Maisie" in great style at M-G-M to welcome Ann Sothern back after eight months off the screen. George Murphy, the genial Irishman, will be the hero in "Up Goes Maisie," which reminds me this is the first time a hero has repeated opposite Annie in this series. Murphy, along with Robert Sterling, shared her screen affections in "Ringside Maisie" (but it was Sterling who won her off the screen and who is the proud papa of the new debutante in their nursery).

BEBE DANIELS won't rest all the time she's in Hollywood, the next four months. I knew she wouldn't. She's planning to write a book of her experiences on the European war fronts. Well, in Technicolor, maybe her "learnin'" won't show on her.

That I call real bravery; Binni, pretty wife of Freddie McAvoy was at the Errol Flynn birthday party. Her baby is four weeks old. She told me her little daughter, 2, who is in Mexico, has been near death and her mother, Mrs. Irene Wrightsman, flew down to be with the child.

He's here to line up a cast for his Broadway show, "Flamingo Road."

Boston After Dark

A JUNE MONTH that has been as unseasonable as this one held high prospects for unpleasantness in other ways . . . So today, we have the sad duty of reporting a few of the "Ides" of June . . . First, one of Boston's most respected attorneys, a former judge, is in for some worrisome weeks . . . Within a fortnight, a leader of the Massachusetts bar will bring a petition to remove him as trustee of assorted estates and trusts valued at many millions . . . The case will shock State Street, the Court House and Barristers' Row.

Next is that Federal probe of the lobster industry, which has its centrifugal center in Boston and its radii in Maine and Nova Scotia and Newfoundland . . . Sleuths on the trail of price-fixing in the lobster business are reporting to their chiefs that evidence is plentiful . . . One important figure in the industry has been on the side of the Government these many weeks . . . He has talked and talked.

* * *

SO TO TURN TO more pleasant items . . . Angelo Berlandi, the North End young man who was Mayor Tobin's secretary, has worked day and night and vice versa to such good effect that the committee of which he is chairman has really good tidings . . . The boxing show to be staged Monday night at Fenway Park has a fine advance sale, and Archbishop Cushing's Fund to establish a parochial high school in the North End - to be known as the Christopher Columbus School—will win a fine boost . . . This coincides happily with an acknowledgment from Collector of Internal Revenue Denis W. Delaney of the biggest contribution made to the fund. . . . T. P. Haffenreffer of Brookline is the donor.

* * *

FRIDAY NIGHT saw a marked fall-off in business along the Rialto . . . Town House (an exception) sold out for dinner . . . The Fox and Hounds' business was bustling . . . The Latin Quarter was off somewhat, and the Mayfair was fair . . . The Grotto in the North End attracted a variegated dinner crowd including Mr. and Mrs. Moe Shapoff (he being the popular horse owner-trainer); Ruby Foo of Ruby Foo's Den, Romo Vincent of "Marinka," Joe Tucci, the Washington millionaire who owns the race horse Nowadays; and George Miller of "Snafu" . . . Miss Foo, an epicure of authority, has an opinion on food that may be valuable . . . She thinks that the Grotto's specialty, "lasagna" is the tastiest in Boston.

* * *

JOHN WAYNE, the movie hero, was guest of honor last night at a party given by Terry Turner, the RKO press-agent, at the Ritz-Carlton . . . John is star of "Back to Bataan," a thrilling picture which will have the most stupendous introduction ever accorded a motion picture in Boston at the Boston Garden tomorrow night. (See various preceding pages of this newspaper for details) . . . A fine fellow, Mr. Wayne — and very appreciative—he racked his brain this early morning in an effort to recall the name of a Boston newspaperman who accommodatingly changed the Wayne career for the better.

This newspaperman, who was blond, slight and about 5 feet 11 inches (and definitely was NOT the oversigned in spite of the closeness of the description) let himself be the target for a barrage of knives thrown by Mr. Wayne . . . John then was travelling (as the knife-thrower) in a show called "Big Trail."

* * *

THE NERVELESS newspaperman whom Mr. Wayne now seeks (to express his gratitude) volunteered as a target and then wrote a graphic story of the experience . . . A producer with a real sense of values signed Mr. Wayne forthwith . . . He said that any actor who had guts enough to toss knives at the FRONT of a newspaperman had enough courage to become a star . . . And so it turned out.

* * *

BILLY AMES, able and loyal Boswell to Judge James J. Dooley of Narragansett Park, had an experience in horse-betting at his home track which probably will top any unusual experience the ordinary clients underwent in their wagering . . . Billy bet on 23 straight "seconds" but played his horses only to win . . . Then he made a sizable wager on a horse called War Glenn . . . The horse crossed the wire first, and Billy was happy that his streak of "seconds" was broken . . . His relief was short-lived . . . Down came the number of War Glenn . . . The stewards disqualified the nag, and placed him second.

WRONG?— WHAT DOES HE MEAN, MARTIN? IS THERE SOMETHING WRONG WITH YOU?

Appealing Apparel for Summer

HERE IS a little pastel wool jersey drawstring coat that's on the wonderful side. Casual for the country or formal for town . . . it is a sartorial nifty from the artistry of Vera Maxwell. Mrs. June Hamilton Rhodes, director of the Bureau of Fashion Trends, suggested you tuck a chiffon scarf appliqued with flowers at the neckline . . . and wear it with a gold choker and earrings for nighttime drama.

BLACK SHEER wool is effective for most anything . . . and here as a coat it rates orchids. Slit in the back and featuring full pushed-up sleeves . . . it can be worn as an ensemble with a bright yellow and black printed silk dress . . . or utilized as a much needed light weight summer coat. Carl Sidney designed it. The hat is by John Frederics.

VERSATILE and reversible coat of white wool jersey . . . with brilliant blue cuffs and shoulder tucks . . . which may be worn as a dress or a coat . . . and with a front or back closing . . . is a beautiful contribution to the evening beach scene, as interpreted by Designer Vera Maxwell . . . and endorsed by the Bureau of Fashion Trends.

Fresh Fruit In Wine

By MARTHA LEE

FRESH FRUIT in wine is at once one of the most dramatic and one of the simplest of all dessert services. It is a happy choice for important summertime dinners — one that requires a minimum of preparation but goes a long way toward building the hostess' reputation for setting an elegant table. Such fruit in wine services save sugar, too, for the dessert wines have a high natural sugar content which ordinarily adds sufficient sweetening.

All fruits are delectable served in wine. Peaches, all varieties of berries, pineapple and oranges are good served raw with a few spoonfuls of wine poured over each serving. Apples, cherries, pears and plums are delicious poached in a light syrup made of wine, water and sugar.

BLACKBERRIES AND PEACHES IN RED WINE

1 pint blackberries
3 large peaches, peeled
1½ cups any dessert wine (Port, Angelica, Tokay, Muscatel)

Hull the berries. Arrange peach slices and blackberries in sherbert or parfait glasses. Pour ¼ cup of the wine over each serving of fruit. Chill for about 1 hour. Makes 6 servings.

Melons are good prepared with wine, too. Plugging a watermelon and pouring red table wine into the heart of the melon before chilling, adds real distinction to this fruit service. And melon balls are at their best when they are chilled in wine before serving. Marinated in Sherry wine they are an ideal summer appetizer service; when dessert wines such as Port, Muscatel or Tokay are used, they star as a cooling summer dessert treat.

BANANAS IN RED WINE

¼ small bananas (green tipped)
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 cup red wine
1 cup sugar
1 tbsp. cornstarch
Dash of nutmeg
Few grains salt

Lightly brown peeled whole bananas in butter. Heat wine; add sugar mixed with cornstarch and cook, stirring until clear and slightly thickened. Add nutmeg and salt and pour over bananas. Simmer slowly 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

This is shortcake time as well as the time for a wide range of delicious desserts which summertime fruits inspire. For this particularly festive shortcake, fresh fruits are peeled, cut in halves, sugared and marinated in wine for two hours before being piled high on the shortcake. The mingled wine and peach juice are then sweetened more if desired and cooked to a thin syrup. This wine flavored glaze, which is poured over the fruit, sets this particular shortcake apart both as to flavor and appearance.

PEACH SHORTCAKE

Baking Powder Biscuit Layers
Peaches
Dry White wine (Hock, Sauterne, etc.)
Sugar Cream

Bake shortcake according to favorite recipe. Bake in two layers. Peel peaches and pour wine over fruit to cover. Sprinkle generously with sugar. Let fruit stand in wine for 1 hour. Remove fruit and cook the juice until it forms a thin syrup. Cool. Arrange fruit on layers of shortcake. Pour syrup over fruit. Garnish with whipped cream, almonds or berries.

FRUITS IN WINE JELLY

2 tbsp. gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
½ cup sugar (more if used for dessert)
1 cup blackberry juice
1 cup any red table wine
2 tbsp. lemon juice
Sliced peaches and whole berries

Soak gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in boiling water. Add sugar to blackberry juice. Heat to dissolve sugar. Add to dissolved gelatin. Add wine and lemon juice. Cool. Pour small amount in molds. When mixture begins to congeal, arrange fruits in partially congealed gelatin. Fill molds. Chill. Unmold and serve on lettuce or use more sugar and serve as dessert.

Wool Sheers the Vogue

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

SOME OF THE LOVELIEST summer sheers are wool. That's because air conditioning of trains, public buildings and restaurants makes wool imperative even for summer. And consequently, some of the finest New York designers have included summer wools . . . lightweight sheers . . . the aristocrats of fabrics . . . in their splendid collections.

The pastel jersey coats, for instance, are perfect for daytime or informal evening . . . and are in the smooth slim trend. Even the little wool two-piece suit is a basic for summer with cool sheer blouses, a dickey or a tailored blouse. Sponge wool which is being used for most of the appealing apparel is as its name denotes . . . very light and porous, perfect for even the hottest day of summer.

Some very handsome jerseys are being imported from South America, according to the Bureau of Fashion Trends, a fabric universally adaptable to American needs . . . since there is a continuous demand for bathing suits, shorts, slack and play clothes in general . . . coats, summer two-piece suits, even wraps and evening gowns, hostess coats and dresses.

Of course jersey is very flattering to the figure, thin or full, to young and old, and for every hour of the day. Cool evenings make this fabric a figure lovely . . . and a comfortable one.

FINE SUMMER SUIT

Men's wear worsted in white with a pale blue stripe has been effectively used by Designer Vera Maxwell for a summer suit. And black sheer wool has been fashioned by Designer Carl Sidney for a slit-back coat that is perfect foil for printed dresses. Coats made of wool jersey in all the heavenly pastel shades are lush finery during the summer months . . . and something no wardrobe should be without . . . especially for that walk along the beach . . . or that trip to the oceanside casino . . . or that visit to the country where nature's foliage makes summer dwelling on the cool side.

TOWN OR COUNTRY will be lovelier when you silhouette yourself against its background in this coral-colored sheer wool and navy polka dots accenting the color contrast. Pauline Trigere designed this dress lovely with soft folds draped across the high neckline and navy kid used for the belt. Sally Victor created the hat in matching fabric.—R. M.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, FRIDAY—It has been good to read day by day of the acclaim which has greeted Gen. Eisenhower. Wherever he goes, I am sure it will be the same. The welcome for our other generals has been equally warm and appreciative. They deserve it, and I am glad that we know how to show our gratitude.

Gen. Eisenhower has taken all of his honors modestly, always reminding people that he is the symbol of his men and that he accepts all this acclaim for his men as well as for himself.

This has endeared him to the American people. For no matter how humble your own soldier's role may be, he is the one who fights the war, and when you look at the general who was in Supreme Command in the European theater you think of your own man.

From a military standpoint Gen. Eisenhower has accomplished great things. I think his greatest achievement, however, has been to combine all the services of all the different nations and have them work together to attain success.

* * *

I WAS INTERESTED to get a letter from Great Britain yesterday which shows that over there they have complaints similar to what one hears over here about the treatment of German prisoners of war. They sent me a weekly table comparing what British civilian workers ate with what German prisoners of war received. Here it is:

	German Prisoners	British Civilians
Sugar	14 ozs.	8 ozs.
Fats	8¼ ozs.	4 ozs.
Jam	7 ozs.	4 ozs.
Cheese	5 ozs.	4 ozs.
Bacon	9 ozs.	4 ozs.
Meat	2 lbs., 10 ozs.	Less than 1 lb.

* * *

THEY ARE NOT forgetting, either, that Allied prisoners of war in Germany got per week, supposedly, 5 ozs. of sugar; 6 ozs. of fat; 5 ozs. of ersatz jam; 1.3 ozs. of cheese, and no bacon and no meat.

As a matter of fact, the British prisoners coming home say that this is not what they really received. Breakfast was usually a slice of bread, made of potato and rye flour with wood pulp added, and a cup of herb tea; lunch, three rather small potatoes and another slice of bread, and at night a slice of bread with some soup made of turnips and barley; and very occasionally, German soup-stew with a small amount of horseflesh in it.

The British are as soft-hearted as we, aren't they? I wonder if the playing fields of Eton and our own public school playgrounds have made us feel that the beaten team must always have some consideration?

Crack 3-Year-Olds Top Suffolk Program Today

By JACK CONWAY

WITH A LITTLE consideration from the weather man, Allan Wilson expects Suffolk Downs to establish high marks this afternoon for spirited racing, attendance and mutuel handle. As a horseman, Wilson always rates good racing in first position. He knows that with the proper type of racing that large attendances and soaring mutuel handles come as a matter of course.

The racing so far during the Suffolk Downs meeting has been well received by the public. There were five winning favorites yesterday which showed that the form horses are gaining their share of the purses.

Dave Ferriss

The $5000 Added Constitution Handicap over a distance of one mile was to be the feature of today's card. Some of the best three-year-olds in the East were entered, and it was expected that the battle for honors would be keen.

There were also a $2000 and a $1000 allowances races and they attracted some good entries.

Most of the horses at Suffolk Downs have had opportunities to take part in several races during the New England season and they are prepared to shot at their best.

Ferriss on Sunday

I LOOK TO see Dave Ferriss pitch one of his best games when he opposes the Senators on Sunday. Ferriss was eager to get back into action as soon as possible following his rout by the Yanks.

It was Ferriss who asked for the Sunday assignment, and Joe Cronin readily agreed to send his crack rookie against the Senators. In Washington recently, Ferriss won from the Senators after 14 hectic innings.

The Sox proved they do not intend to permit their setback in their last game with the Yanks to worry them by the way they piled into the Senators in the first game of their series to win by a score of 10 to 5. Emmett O'Neil scored his third victory of the season over the Senators.

Anything can happen when a team like the Sox gets imbued with the idea it is going to win. Eddie Lake proved this in most convincing style when he slammed the agate over the left field fence with two men on. Lake has been playing brilliant baseball since he was placed at shortstop. Eddie is a top fielder, and if he can get an occasional extra base hit he will prove a mighty valuable asset for Joe Cronin.

Matchmaking Woes

DAN CARROLL, who is doing the matchmaking for the Goodwin A. C. show at Fenway Park on Monday night, knows how Dave Ferriss felt when the Yanks hopped all over him. Dan was hit by injuries to boxers he had carded to appear rather than by singles and doubles.

In juries caused Gus Mell and Steve Kronis to withdraw. Dan has signed Wilfrie Shanks of Montreal to meet Jack Caparell of Roxbury and Oscar St. Pierre to oppose Frank Murray.

The two feature bouts remain intact. Lou Nova will oppose Tami Mauriello, while Ralph Zanelli will toss punches at Nva Espaza.

Harridge Fines Four Brownies for Assault

CHICAGO, June 23 (INS)—Will Harridge, president of the American League, today slapped fines on Luke Sewell, manager of the St. Louis Browns, and three members of the club.

Sewell was fined $250, and pitchers George Caster and Sigmund Jakucki and infielder Ellis Clary $100 each.

The fines resulted from a brawl involving the Chicago White Sox in a game at St. Louis last Wednesday night.

The White Sox batting practice pitcher, Karl Scheeel, a discharged Marine Corps veteran, who had been riding the Browns from the bench, was the object of the American League champions' wrath and was given a severe trouncing.

Harridge, in a letter addressed to Sewell and made public by the former in Chicago, said:

"For his conduct in deliberately throwing a ball into the White Sox when he was removed by you from the night game of Wednesday, June 20, pitcher George Caster is fined the snum of $100.

"Pitcher Sigmund Jackucki and infielder Ellis Clary, for their attack on player Scheel, are each fined the sum of $100.

"For your failure as the manager to control your ball club and maintain order following the Caster incident and during and following the attack on Scheel you are fined the sum of $250.

"Five days will be allowed you, Caster, Jukucki and Clary to forward personal checks to the American League office."

Harridge's decision was made after studying the report of art Passarella, chief umpire of the game, on the incident.

Red Sox Ace Pitchers Face Nats Tomorrow

By HERB FINNEGAN

Palpitant double-header promised tomorrow at Fenway Park. Sox throw aces Ferris and Hausmann against the Nats. Sell-out crowd promised to see if Ferriss has "lost his touch." Outcome will be interesting. Much more excitement expected than transpired in Ladies' Day game, a 10-5 Sox victory.

Emmett "Get the ball over" O'Neill won it. His fifth win of the year and his third over the Nats. "Cousins," he calls 'em.

It was a listless game. Nats rode day coach all night, being bumped off in New York at 6 a. m. Didn't arrive in Fenway Park until batting practice time. Asleep on their feet. Weren't up to it. The game had its moments nevertheless.

It might go down in history, in fact, as the game that will change the entire history of baseball scoring. Here is the vital incident:

Clem Hausmann

O'Neill walked in the second with one out. Lake walked. Steiner hit the DP ball but Vaughn threw wild to second, O'Neill scoring. Lake reached third on the play, Steiner second. Metkovich hit the ball to first baseman Kuhel who hesitated, hoping to tag Metko coming down the line but all the time watching Lake dashing in from third.

Kuhel, who played on Joe Cronin's pennant winning Washington team of '33, not only missed the tag on Metko, but missed Lake at the plate because his throw was too late and too wide. Decision? Fielder's choice, no error.

Now it just happened that the same Metkovich, who avoided Kuhel's tag down the base line, is the same chap who tied Dolph Camilli's record for first baseman committing the most errors (3) in one inning.

Metko's occurred on the opening day of the '45 season in Yankee Stadium, and here are the details:

ONE FOR RED BOOK

Seventh inning—Sox leading 3-1. Cecil pitching. Etten opens with a double. Buzas' single scores Etten. Savage singles. Cecil wild pitches. Savage to third. Mike Garbark, the annoyer, hits a ground ball to Metko. Savage tries to score. Metko scoops the ball, hesitates a moment, tries to tag out Garbark coming down the line, fails, throws wide to home plate.

Scoring decision: Two errors on one play for Metkovich. Later he booted a ground ball to tie Camilli's record.

Now what? The plays were identical. Metko is given two errors in New York, Kuhel none in Boston. Does Metko deserve to have his name in the record books with Camilli?

O'Neill's win was his fifth against one loss. He can beat anybody if he "gets the ball over" . . . He hasn5t lost a ball game since May 6 but he was knocked out of the box by the Yanks the day before Ferriss lost his first game. Woods, however, was credited with the defeat . . . Johnson, who was fanned thrice by Niggeling in Friday night's midnight game, got "two for two"against the ancient knuckleballer in Ladies' Day game . . . In the coaches' boxes for Washington: Joe Judge, asking for his many Boston friends, including Bill Carrigan, and Lt. Bert Shepard, at first base who lost a leg on a flying mission over Germany

Dempsey Praises Pacific Boys

LOS ANGELES, June 23 (AP)—"Over there in the Pacific," Jack Dempsey said, "the boys fight more than one Jap at a time and they sometimes die or are wounded. They are fighters. Me? Forget it."

Dempsey, a commander in the Coast Guard, has just returned from several weeks spent in Pacific war outposts.

Newton Teacher Joins Red Birds

COLUMBUS, O., June 23 (AP)—The Columbus Red Birds of the American Ass'n announced today they had obtained infielder James Towns and pitcher Claire Stromnen from the Rochester Red Wings on option.

Infielder Warren Huston, who has just completed teaching duties at Newtonville, Mass., also will join the club Sunday. Luco Lancelloti, an infielder obtained on option from Rochester, has been returned to that club.

Georgia Tech Will Miss Pritchard

ATLANTA, June 23 (AP)—The player who furnished the 1944 Georgia Tech football team the toughest day in and day out competition won't be around this fall—and the Yellow Jacket coaching staff is sorry.

He's Chief Specialist Bosch Pritchard, former ace back with V. M. I. and the professional Philadelphia Eagles, who has been transferred from Tech to San Diego.

Willamette Quits Gridiron for 1945

SALEM, Ore., June 23 (AP)—Willamette Nniversity, one of the three colleges in the Northwest which kept football alive during the dark days of the war, won't have a team this fall.

Lack of manpower—only 16 of their 120 Navy trainees are eligible—is the reason.

Hal Green Defeats Fritzie Zivic in 10

NEW YORK, June 23 (INS)—Hal Green, Brooklyn ex-service man, was lucky to win a 10-round decision over Fritzie Zivic, of Pittsburgh, in the feature 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden last night.

Five seconds before the end of the sixth round, Zivic, the former world's welterweight champion, knocked Green colder than a mackerel. However, the bell saved Green and he managed to collect his wits by the time the next round started.

Green weighed 152¾, Zivic 151¼.

Dodger Fans Daffy Over Prospects

By BILL GRIMES

BROOKLYN, June 23—Maybe the Dodgers haven't any Babe Hermans playing with them now but the mentality of the Brooklyn fans, who trek to Ebbetts Field to root, blast or weep for "Dem Buns" is lower than that of the infamous "Daffiness Boys from Flatbush" of the days when it wasn't anything out of the ordinary for three of them to wind up on third base.

The Brooklyn fans believe the Dodgers are "In." And, it isn't healthy for an out-of-towner to express a contrary opinion on the outcome of the National League race.

Whereby in the past Daffy performances on the part of the players put the Dodgers in the hands of the receivers, today, the daffy reasoning of the fans is paying dividends. In his entire career as a baseball magnate, Branch Rickey has never heard so much sweet music—the click, click, click of turnstiles. In 26 games, the Ebbetts Field stiles have clicked more than a half million times.

Leo Durocher

It's a waste of time and effort to argue with a Brooklynite against the Dodgers chances of winning the pennant. They point to the fact that Leo Durocher has "Dem Bums" out in front. And, they have absolute confidence that "Lippy" will keep them in the lead.

The Dodgers' fans are really "high" on the team. There isn't a ticket to be had for tonight's game or tomorrow's doubleheader. Men, women and children were milling around Ebbetts Field three hours before last night's game was scheduled to start. If it were three weeks, instead of three months, from the end of the pennant race, the fans could not display any more enthusiasm.

It was almost midnight when the players came out of Ebbetts Field last night. But, thousands of fans lined the streets. Three bands marched back and forth serenading the Dodgers. They checked out each Dodger and when the last player had left the park, there was a mad rush for the 'subway,' which created a real traffic jam on the streets as well as underground.

It's my personal opinion that the Dodgers will be cooled off during this 19-day stay. And, of course, if that prediction comes true, the Brooklyn fans will appreciate how screwy they were not to have analyzed the Dodger's success to date.

DODGERS WIN IN EAST

The fact of the matter is that Brooklyn is leading the National League solely because of its success against the Philadelphia Bluejays and the New York Giants.

There isn't any question in the mind of anyone who has seen the Bluejays but that Herb Pennock has the poorest aggregation of players that was ever in a major league. The Bluejays couldn't win in a class A league. They haven't averaged to win one out of four. They've been on the winning end of only a half dozen home games.

So what? So the Dodgers have beaten them 12 times in 13 starts. And, "Dem Bums" have taken eight out of 12 from the fading Giants. It is the 20-game contribution made by the Bluejays and the Giant's that's responsible for the Dodgers leading the National League.

On the other hand, every other club in the league has an edge over the Dodgers to date. But for the fact that their pitching staff was shot to ribbons last week, the Braves would have a decided bulge on the Durochermen. Then, too, the Dodgers haven't done so well with Chicago, St. Louis or the seventh place Cincinnati Reds. The Cubs took their measure in four of the six games played, the Cardinals hold a 4-3 edge and the Reds took three out of five.

The Braves will be troublesome for the next couple of days and then the Dodgers must face the Western clubs, three of which are in the upper bracket.

However, even if the Dodgers hit the skids during this home stay, the Brooklyn fans will prove that they're daffy by continuing to dream of another pennant and flocking daily to Ebbetts Field to root, blast and weep for "Dem Bums."

Injuries Force Shift in Card

Injuries to two of the principals in the supporting fights of the Lou Nova-Tami Mauriello boxing bout Monday night necessitated a change in the card today.

Gus "Pell" Mell, Canadian lightweight, scheduled to meet Lulu Constantino, because of an injury sustained while training in a Montreal gym, and Steve Kronis, booked for a 10-round go with Tommy Murray, who was cut over the eye in a fight last Thursday night at Fall River, will be unable to appear.

Matchmaker Dan Carroll of the Goodwin A. C. signed Wilfie Shanks of Montreal to tackle Jackie Caparell, Roxbury, and acquired Oscar St. Pierre, one of New England's best, to mix with Murray, as a substitute card.

Ralph Zannelli, the Providence, R. I., slugger, and Nava Espaza, Mexican battler, will be the No. 2 attraction.

Threaten Strike At Revere Track

The opening of the dog racing season at Wonderland Park July 2 was threatened today by a demand of 34 kennel owners that nightly purse allowances be increased from $4000 to $7000.

These dog owners jointly own all the greyhounds now racing in Massachusetts, except those at the Taunton track.

The demand was served on the track association by William Sevinor of Chelsea, attorney for the owners. The owners asserted that unless the increase is forthcoming they will withdraw their animals.
